

Masterclass webinar

Menopause: The topics

Menopause: The hot topics is aimed at experienced GPs and practice nurses with an interest in women's midlife health and menopause. This Masterclass is brought to you by Family Planning NSW in partnership with the Australasian Menopause Society.

Menopause: The hot topics will review the evidence on the safety and key clinical characteristics of Menopausal Hormone Therapy (MHT), placing these into context with up-to-date data, real-life case studies and an interactive discussion.

The session covers best practice guidelines and clinical consensus on the management of menopause, including the use of MHT and testosterone, and contraceptive options in perimenopause.

About our Masterclasses interactive webinar online via Zoom

Our Masterclasses are brought to you by expert presenters selected for their specialist knowledge of each subject area. Each Masterclass includes challenging case studies and is delivered in a collegiate interactive environment, with time allocated to individual Q&A.

Date 15 October 2020
Time 6:00PM-8:00PM
Cost $100

Clinical Professor Rod Baber AM

Clinical Professor of Obstetrics and Gynaecology at Sydney Medical School, University of Sydney, Professor Rod Baber is Past President of the International Menopause Society. He studied Pharmacy and then Medicine at the University of Sydney. He completed specialist training in Obstetrics and Gynaecology at Australia's Royal North Shore Hospital and in the UK at Kings College Hospital and the Lister Fertility and Endocrinology Centre.

Professor Baber holds a Fellowship of both the Royal and Royal Australian & New Zealand Colleges of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists. He holds specialist appointments at North Shore Private and the Mater Hospitals in Sydney, is a visiting medical officer at the Royal North Shore Hospital and has a practice specialising in gynaecology in St Leonards.

Clinical Assoc Prof Deborah Bateson Medical Director, Family Planning NSW

Deborah is the Medical Director of Family Planning NSW and has worked in reproductive and sexual health as a clinician, educator and researcher. In 2013 she was the Global Medical Director for Marie Stopes International. Deborah is the past Chair of the Australasian Sexual Health Alliance. Her main clinical and research interests relate to reproductive rights, contraception, unintended pregnancy and access to abortion as well as cervical cancer prevention.

